Mickey Walker Wins World's Welterweight Title in Thrilling 15-Round Bout at Garden

Youth and Vigor of Jerseyite Are Too Much for Jack Britton

Veteran Titleholder, Game in Defeat, Is Unable to Withstand Terrific Onslaught of Younger Opponent; Commission Declares All Bets Off

By Jack Lawrence

The smug old maxim that says "Youth will be served" did its stuff Madison Square Garden last night, when Mickey Walker, a mediocre league "all-stars" played a local team et of scrapper, won the welterweight championship of the world from before sailing for the Far East relack Britton, who has been wearing that somewhat tarnished crown for sarily a decade. Britton was glorious in his defeat, even though there was condence aplenty that he wasn't in shape. His losing battle was a pretty thing to see.

It was only the gameness born of the bloed that kept him on his feet to the end. He absorbed a world of punishment and was a mark for almost reery shot that Mickey Walker's repertory

It was only the gameness born of his blood that kept him on his feet to the end. He absorbed a world of punishment and was a mark for almost every shot that Mickey Walker had in his reperiory. And Walker's repertory was extensive last night. He had everything, and behind the drives that he drilled across in the direction of the champon's jaw there was force and sever.

The action of the commission was widoutly influenced by the queer shifts in the betting during the day. Early in the afternoon Britton was a 1 to 3 favorite, yet just before the bell er ruled choice among the men like to gamble on these events. to one was being offered freely that Walker would win. This sudden thenge in betting edds doubtless made the boxing board take action that fought the best fight of his career last night in winning the world's welter-weight championship. He was imbued with a blind and courageous fervor that could not be stopped. His slashing attack was launched under a full head of steam in the first round, and it never relaxed until the last hell tolled in the fifteenth, marking the transition of anther world's title from a recorded.

Commissioner Landis Investigates Reported Violation of Barnstorming Rule

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 1-Charges that rules applying to "barnstorming" exhibition baseball games were violated when a team of major York Giants, and Hosman and Bush, of the Yankees—appeared in the line.

Judge Lands, apprised of the fact, sent a radio message to the team, on board the liner Empress of Asia, demanding an explanation. The major lesguers in return sent a message to Robert Brown, manager of the Vancouver team, asking him to inform the arbiter of the details of the affeir.

Brown telegraphed Judge Landis, asserting that the exhibition match was "a great boost for baseball" and declaring that while rules may have been violated, the players did not believe their action would have any serious result.
